

HALL ANSCHROSEN

F. E. HILL'S CONVENTION HALL DESIGN GETS FIRST PRIZE.

W. W. ROSE A CLOSE SECOND.

VAN BRUNT & HOWE THIRD AND GUNN & CURTIS FOURTH.

HANDSOME BUILDING ASSURED.

ADAPTED TO ALL USES TO WHICH IT COULD BE PUT.

Conventions, Concerts, Expositions and Shows of All Kinds May Be Held—Roof Garden a Feature—Third Regiment Will Have a Home.

The plans for the Kansas City convention hall were finally decided upon by the design committee yesterday. The following were the awards:

Frederick E. Hill—First prize of $5,000, of which he receives $2,500, of which he receives $2,500, of which he receives $2,500.

W. W. Rose—Second prize of $2,500. Van Brunt & Howe—Third prize of $1,500. Gunn & Curtis—Fourth prize of $1,000.

The Hill building will seat exactly 8,000 people, while Mr. Rose's will seat 9,012. Mr. Hill provides for an extra balcony to be put in in the future, capable of seating nearly 4,000 more.

The decision between first and second prize was a very close one. As all of the successful plans provided for the property of the committee, the best features of each will be incorporated in the final plans. Mr. Hill was the unanimous first choice of the committee, and Mr. Rose the unanimous choice for second place.

Each architect submitted his plans under a fictitious name, so that the committee did not know the identity of the competitors. The successful architect will have general charge of the construction of the building, and is to receive a fee of $5,000, of which he receives $2,500 in subscription to the hall fund. The committee has paid for the ground, and has $36,000 in the bank to apply in the building itself. An equal amount is still due on subscriptions already made.

The committee will proceed at once to preparations for the erection of the building, and dirt will begin to fly by April 1.

Will Be a Handsome Building.

The ground story of the Hill building is to be built of native stone, and the main floor of buff brick. From the outside the building will present a most picturesque appearance. On Central street a portico twenty-five feet wide will run nearly the entire length of the building, 130 feet, and will be filled with grained arches. Above this portico will run an outside gallery on both Central and Thirteenth streets of Corinthian design, the columns being grouped in pairs after the peristyle plan. Above this is the railing surrounding the roof garden. On top of each pair of columns is an electric light pole twenty feet high.

The outside dimensions of the building will be 198 feet on Thirteenth street, and 214 feet on Central street. Every foot of room of a basement and two floors is utilized, the result being a beautiful building, which is not only beautiful in appearance but admirably adapted to the purposes of a convention hall.

The basement extends under the whole building with the exception of the arena. In the northwest corner of the basement are located the boiler and engine rooms, adjoining which, on the south, are a large storeroom and a number of toilet and show-rooms. In the southwest corner of the basement are a number of lockers for the Third Regiment.

Between all these rooms and the unexcavated arena, running north and south 300 feet, is a rise of 100 yards. This was a feature which none of the other competitors suggested.

On the south side of the basement, running east and west, is an artillery room 242 feet, off which lies a storage vault 242 feet.

On the east side of the building, running north and south and corresponding parallel to the rifle range on the opposite side of the arena, are a large number of stalls for horse shows. Inclined planes lead to the upper floor and permit horses to be led or artillery to be drawn to the arena.

Auditorium Floor Arrangement.
The auditorium story occupies the entire space of the building. A porte cochere leads off Central street at the northwest corner of the building to a driveway extending nearly the entire width of the building east and west. Half a dozen exits lead to the alley between Central and Wyandotte. At the center of the driveway an immense opening leads to the arena.

The arena itself is 212x125 feet and is provided with movable flooring which may be level for balls or inclined for auditorium purposes. The entire arena may be covered with inclined flooring filled with chairs, in which event the auditorium will seat 9,000 people. With the arena cleared for horse shows, etc., the building seats 5,000 people, with provisions for an extra gallery capable of seating 6,000 more, making the possible seating capacity of the building between 15,000 and 16,000.

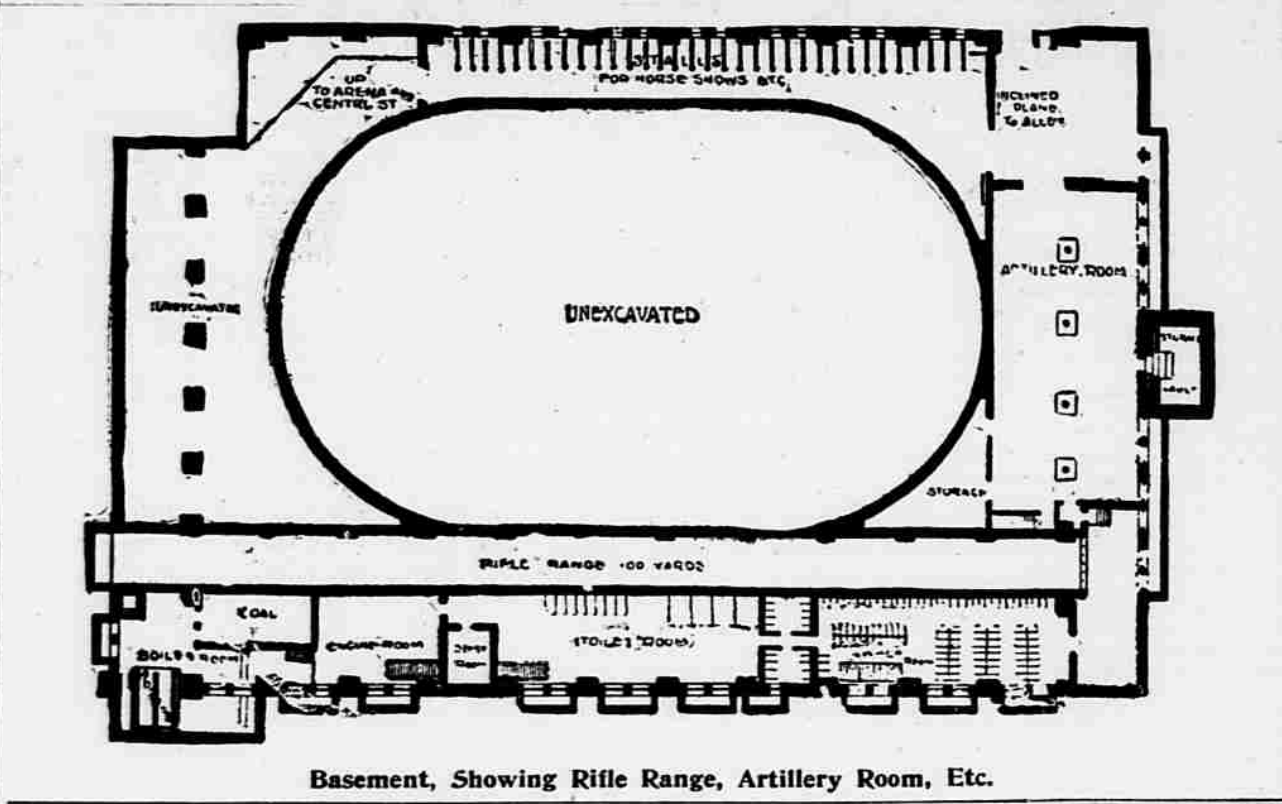

Boxes are arranged all around the arena and a judges' stand is located at the center of the eastern wall. A strong feature of the plan is that the entire floor space is utilized for seating purposes.

On a level with the arena a mezzanine floor runs beneath the seats that lead to the top of the side and end walls. Cloak and toilet rooms occupy all the available space left by three halls 44x74, 44x74 and 44x74 feet. The hall at the northwest corner, directly over the kitchen in the basement, is designed for a banquet hall. The middle hall, flanked by an inclined plane four feet wide on each side leading to the arena track, is a ladies' hall suitable for club meetings, lectures, etc. The southern hall will be the room for the Third Regiment and is 44x74 feet.

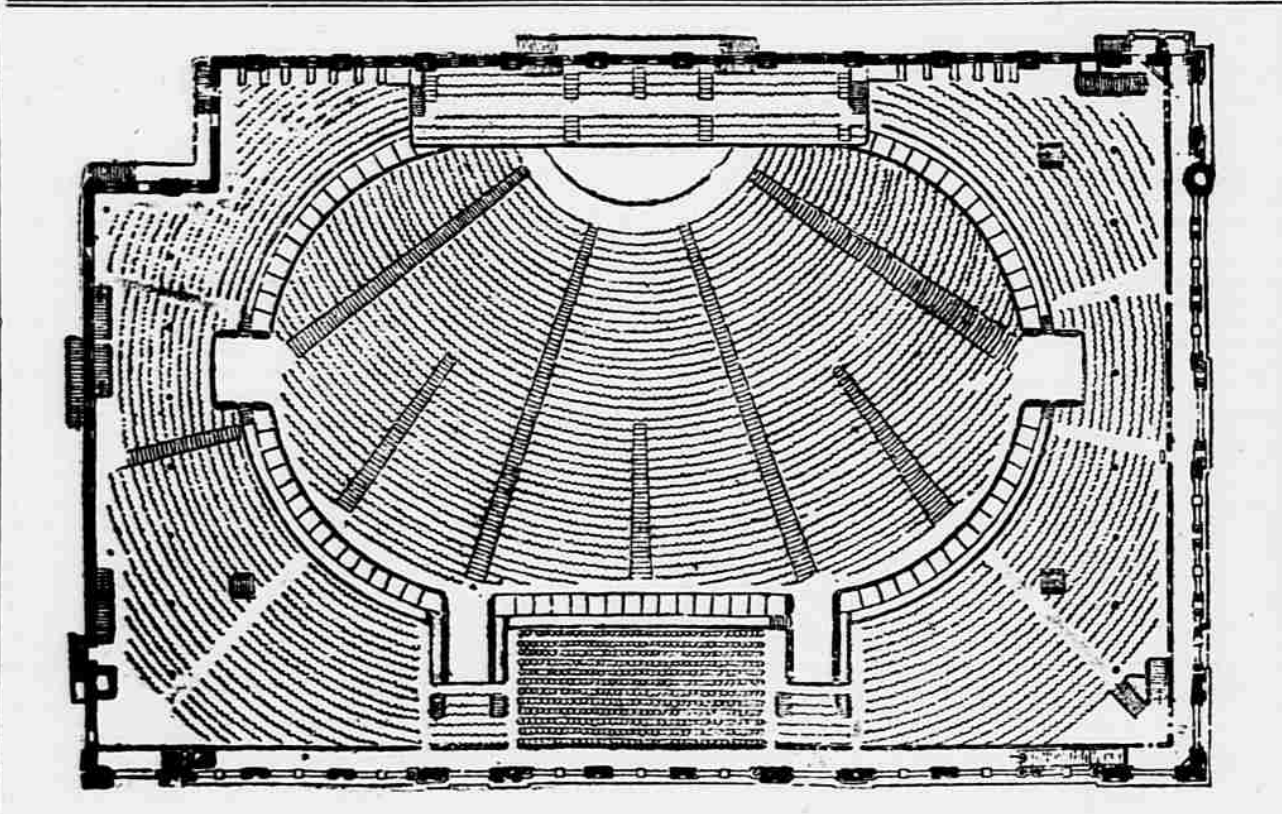

It is directly over the artillery room in the basement.

A handsome lobby twenty-nine feet wide runs parallel with Thirteenth street for the entire width of the building, 130 feet. Along the alley running north and south are arranged many toilet and cloak rooms, box offices, etc.

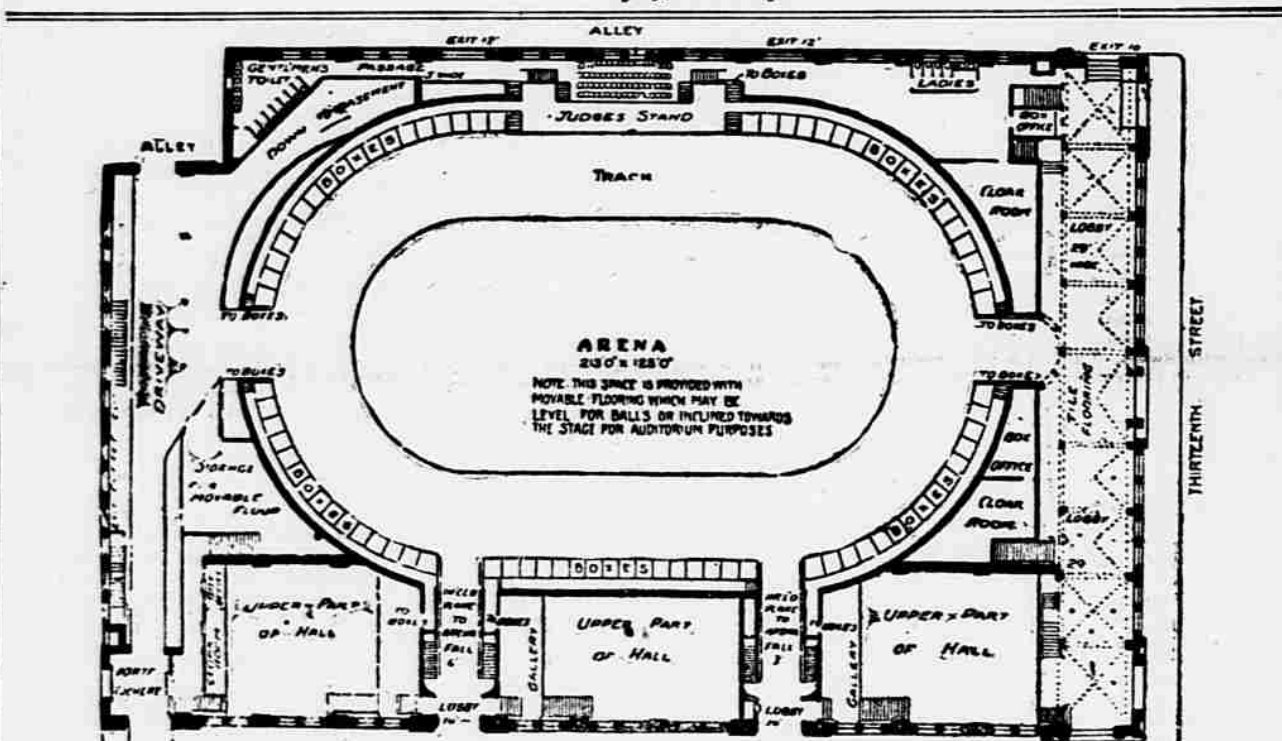

A Madison Square Arena.
The arena is modeled after the famous Madison Square garden. The Priests of Pallas floats may enter at the alley be-between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets, wind into the great driveway and enter the building, traverse the arena and make an exit, all before a cheering crowd of 5,000 people. The Kansas City fire department can make a flying run in the same manner. In fact, innumerable uses may be made of the opportunities afforded.

The arena story may be transformed into an auditorium by merely flooring the arena with an inclined floor and placing nearly 4,000 chairs thereon. The arena seats exactly 3,000 people and the galleries 4,500. The roof garden will be fifty-eight feet wide and will extend to Central alley sides of the building. When the extra gallery provided for is put in, persons will sit at the tables in the roof garden and listen to concerts going on in the auditorium.

As explained before, the space beneath the galleries is taken up with the mezzanine floor.

The building can be emptied of all the people in it in five minutes.

Details of the Architect's Plans.
The successful architect in submitting his plans gave the following general suggestions:

The face walls and columns on Central and Thirteenth street sides with proper returns will be laid up with hydraulic cream and molded brick. The trimmings below main cornice will be of molded brick and terra cotta.

The north and east sides of the building and all inside walls below the gallery seats will be of terra cotta.

The outside gallery will be finished with red mortar.

The main roof trusses will be of ample strength and of best steel construction, with roller hangers or equivalent.

Under each end of the main trusses will be "Z" bar columns of ample strength, properly protected with masonry. The gallery seats over the smaller halls and ceilings will be supported by steel trusses.

The purlins, rafters and roof boarding will be of Oregon fir, or equivalent, finished for oiling inside. Other inside dimension lumber of yellow pine. The spaces under the floor arranged so that it can be laid down and taken up in sections. The joints between the sections will be dovetailed together, so that a perfectly smooth floor will result. When this floor is needed for seats the proper incline shall be given. All windows will be glazed with good American glass; all hardware will be of genuine brass or bronze.

The seats of the inside galleries and the partition between inside and outside galleries will be fireproof. The ceiling under the galleries and under the smaller halls will be lathed with iron lath and plastered with hard plaster.

The usual specifications for electric and gas lighting are made. The entrance lobbies will be tiled with marble or vitrified brick tiling.

The following is an estimate of the cost of building:

Excavation, concrete and stone work.....	$25,000
Brick work and terra cotta.....	1,500
Iron work.....	10,000
Carpenter work.....	25,000
Plumbing, piping and steam fitting.....	12,000
Electric wiring.....	2,500
Floor tiling.....	1,000
Stained and leaded glass.....	700
Total.....	$77,000

The specifications of the committee provided that the building should be suitable for conventions, fairs, expositions, horse shows, grand concerts, balls and banquets and an armory. It had to seat at least 9,000 people and must be provided with numerous toilet rooms, etc.

The committee which had charge of the competition consists of Charles Campbell, chairman; Robert Moody, treasurer; E. M. Clendenen, secretary; F. A. Faxon, G. W. Fuller, J. C. James, J. V. C. Kames, D. B. Kirk, George T. Lynn, H. J. McGowan, D. W. Rider, A. P. Seastedt, A. E. Stilwell and M. V. Watson, and A. C. Hunt, who was forced to retire on account of ill health. The committee worked unceasingly for the past two days with W. A. Kelley as a building expert. No expert architect assisted the committee in passing up the architectural problems in the building.

Committee Compliments Architects.
The committee adopted the following resolution yesterday at the close of the competition:

"Resolved, That the sincere thanks of this committee be publicly tendered to the architects of Kansas City who, in response to its request, so generously responded by presenting for its consideration so many beautiful and elaborate studies; that the committee, having fully considered each plan presented, and mindful of its obligations to the public, proceeded conscientiously without prejudice or favor to make its selections.

"That the frequent reviews of the studies have tended to enhance its good opinion of its talented home architects and to verify its belief that they are the peers of any in the land."

W. W. Rose, who won second prize, submitted a design for a building very similar in arrangement to Mr. Hill's. Van Brunt & Howe's building was a severe looking structure, while Gunn & Curtis' design was an elaborate and florid structure in the Renaissance style of architecture.

Frederick E. Hill, the successful competitor, is 28 years old and has been engaged in the practice of his profession in Kansas City for thirteen years. He was born in Minnesota in 1870 and received his professional training in the leading Eastern schools. He came to Kansas City in 1888 and has had charge of the construction of many large buildings. The New York Life building is perhaps his chief d'oeuvre. He was also in the history of the party Episcopal church and the South Prospect church.

Among other who competed were C. P. Schmidt, Adriaan Van Brunt, Hackney & Smith, George Mathews, C. Wilson and W. C. Root.

POWER FROM SUN'S RAYS.

An Engine Said to Be in Practical Operation at Longwood, Mass.

For some time several Boston capitalists have been working on a solar engine machine, and on last Monday afternoon the completed engine, which has been set up at Longwood, near Boston, crude though it is, was tested successfully. The New York Sun says the engine consists of three parts: a reflector, which concentrates the heat; a cylinder for generating the steam and a device for keeping the sun's rays constantly in focus on the cylinder.

In the machine set up at Longwood there is a heavy iron framework, which supports a series of glass mirrors, arranged in a semi-circular sheet, twenty-two feet in diameter. These mirrors are nearly as high as they are wide, and the framework on which they are placed is so adjusted that they will follow the sun in its circuit, and may be adjusted by hand from week to week to follow the declination of the sun.

The roller bearings on which the framework runs permit it to be moved from side to side by turning a wheel with one hand. The boiler is one of the peculiarities of the queer machine which would be replaced with white men. There are white men enough in Kansas City to keep the streets clean and fill all the other spaces of the city. The special committee having this matter in hand is considering a number of locations, but a selection will be deferred until the regular committee meeting of Friday night.

There is no use in rushing matters,"

THE NEW EAST ALWAYS!

The big bankrupt purchases of the Lloyd & Brace stock and New York Store will soon be cleaned out at the rate at which they are going now. Yet there are people who seem to think these goods will be here any time they want them. Some do not appreciate the remarkable prices for which these good, clean goods are being sold. Does it injure these goods in any particular that they were bought at forced sale? Remember, these are clean, perfect, up-to-date goods. Think of this elegant stock of high grade Corsets, consisting of Thompson's E. R. & G. W. B. and many such goods running in price up to $3.50, being sold for 98c and $1.19! Nothing wrong with the goods. You can go to some aristocratic store and pay about double, if you prefer to. Think of buying elegant Veilings for 2c and 3c; beautiful Cream Table Damask for 25c a yard that you can't touch under 50c at any other place in town; or Men's Cheviot Suits, worth $9 and $10, for $3.50 and $4.50; or Ladies' Suits, splendid goods, New York Store sold for $8 and $10, for $4.98 and $5.98; or splendid Kid Gloves, running in price at New York Store from $1 up to $2, all thrown out at one price, 79c; or $4 and $5 Silk Waists for $1.48 and $1.98; or $2.50 and $3 Shoes for $1.25 and $1.50; or nice Silks for 15c, 19c, 33c, and the best Silk ever sold in any market for the money, 50c a yard.

This ought to give you some idea of the great money savings we now afford you. To-day will be a big day in this sale, and aside from the other bargains which have been told about from day to day since the sale began we put out these:

One lot of Linen Colored Suitings, in fancy stripes and dots, lengths of 2 to 10 yards, actual 15c value, usually 50c.....	8c
One lot of Taffeta Linings, 36 inches wide, dark and colored, worth 10c, per yard.....	6c

REGISTERED BY THOUSANDS

INCOMPLETE RETURNS GIVE 15,002 NAMES.

Remaining Eight Precincts Will Swell the Total to 18,000—Many Are Duplicates and Lists Must Be Revised.
The supplemental registration Tuesday proved unprecedented in the history of the city. The official figures will far exceed the expectations of the most sanguine. Prior to registration no one was heard to predict that there would be over 10,000 names enrolled, but the complete returns from 120 of the 123 registration districts received at the office of the election commissioners up to last night showed a total of 15,022. Many of these names are already on the books of the commissioners, however, and the exact gain cannot be ascertained until after the striking off is concluded. The clerks and judges are now engaged in making a house to house canvass of their districts with a view to verifying the rolls of Tuesday. This work will be completed and the records in the commissioners' office by Saturday morning.

By Tuesday it is expected that all necessary corrections and changes will have been entered and the complete official list showing the names and residences of all voters, ready for the officers of the election in the various wards of the city. The registration Tuesday by wards follows: First ward, 1,682; Second, 2,022; Third, 1,449; Fourth ward, 1,608; Fifth ward, 723; Sixth ward, 1,247; Seventh ward, one precinct out; Eighth ward, one precinct out;
